*God in his profound wisdom has removed from earthly labors our beloved friend and teacher, Dr. Alexander Lee Bondurant. For many years this gentle spirit and classical master moved among us as a noble Magister, faithfully performing the duties which befell him as Latin instructor and Graduate School Dean. Patience, modesty and intrinsic nobility of character won the love and respect of all those who call his name in veneration. Dr. Bondurant is dead, but his spirit, his personality, his splendid virtues, live on in the hearts of all those who have come under his influence. His presence is now a sacred memory, but the spiritual afterglow will kindle more brightly and beautifully the priceless traditions which make the University of Mississippi--
Ole Miss.*

GOVERNOR
HUGH L. WHITE

Since his inauguration as Governor of Mississippi in January, 1936, Hugh L. White has done much to make the University of Mississippi a larger and better school. As governor, he is ex-officio President of the Board of Trustees. It is with great anticipation that the students and University officials are looking forward to cooperating with Governor White in making Ole Miss a still greater University.

THE GYMNASIUM

ALFRED B. BUTTS

B.S., M.S., M.A., Ph.D., LL.B.

Dr. Alfred B. Butts is now serving the second year as the eleventh Chancellor of the University of Mississippi. Dr. Butts came to Ole Miss from Mississippi State College, where he served as Vice-President and Professor of Government. In all the daily routine which he necessarily encounters, Dr. Butts has proved to the individual student, as well as the entire Student Body, that he holds their welfare foremost in his mind. In the multitudinous details as Chancellor, Dr. Butts has kept before him the betterment of the University in accordance with the needs and interests of the students. But he has not confined his educational activities to Mississippi alone; he has served on the faculties of the University of California, University of Virginia, University of Texas, Duke University, and others.

THE CAFETERIA

ALFRED HUME, C.E., D.Sc., LL.D.

Chancellor Emeritus

Alfred Hume, Chancellor-Emeritus and now head of the Mathematical Department of the University of Mississippi, has done much to make the University one of the leading educational institutions of the South. It was through his incessant efforts and his sincere devotion to Ole Miss, that it now holds its position among the leading schools.

The ADMINI

COLLEGE OF LIBERAL ARTS

VICTOR ALDINE COULTER, B.S., M.S., Ph.D.

Dean

The college of liberal arts is the oldest and most inclusive school on the campus. The curriculum is widely planned, and a student may either take a general course or specialize in one field. It also offers preparatory work for Medicine or Law, and is considered as one of the strongest schools on the campus.

SCHOOL OF COMMERCE

JAMES WARSAW BELL, B.Ph., A.M.

The School of Commerce was established at the University of Mississippi in 1917. Although not the oldest school at the University, the School of Commerce offers an incomparable curriculum to the making of a business career. Dean James W. Bell has maintained the high standards of work that makes Ole Miss proud of the School of Commerce.

SCHOOL OF PHARMACY

ELMER LIONEL HAMMOND, Ph.C., B.S., M.S.

Dean

The School of Pharmacy was created at the University of Mississippi in 1908. Since then, important steps have been made by the faculty of that division of the University to place the School of Pharmacy among the leading colleges of pharmacy. Graduate and under graduate course are offered in this school.

S T R A T I O N . .

SCHOOL OF EDUCATION

FLOYD EMMETT FARQUEAR, B.S., M.A.

Dean

The School of Education has as its purpose to train students who wish to become teachers in secondary schools. The courses offered in the school are arranged to develop the student to a high degree of efficiency in the field of work that the student chooses. Many developments have been made in this school since its establishment in 1903, a very important one being the use of the University High School for practice teaching.

SCHOOL OF LAW

THOMAS C. KIMBROUGH, PH. B., LL.B.

Dean

The Law School at the University of Mississippi is recognized as the leading school of its kind in the South. It is a member of the Association of American Law Schools. The regulations laid for entrance into this school are so strict that only the best of students have the privilege of entering.

SCHOOL OF MEDICINE

BILLY S. GUYTON, M.A., M.D., OPH.D., F.A.C.S.

Dean

The University of Mississippi Medical School was created by a special act of the Board of Trustees in 1903. Since its foundation it has maintained a uniformly high standard of medical education. This statement is attested by the records made by the students entering other medical schools, having done preparatory work here. Courses offered by the School provide a general education of medicine as a foundation for graduate work.

SCHOOL OF ENGINEERING

ANDREW B. HARGIS, B.E., C.E.

The University of Mississippi offers to a student desiring to obtain a professional degree in engineering, three courses, namely: Civil, Chemical, and General Engineering. Courses in Engineering were offered at the University as early as 1872, but it was not until 1900 that the school was duly established.

The ADMINI

THE GRADUATE SCHOOL

DAVID HORACE BISHOP, M.A., LL.D.

Professor of English and Dean of Faculty

The Graduate School of the University of Mississippi is highly recognized among the colleges and universities of America. Courses are offered to students who have graduated from Ole Miss and other recognized institutions. By an appropriation, the state legislature made it possible for the University to have a beautiful and unsurpassed Graduate Building. Deserving students have the opportunity to obtain student assistantships and scholarships.

DEPARTMENT OF MUSIC

LAURA T. MARTIN, B.A., B.MUS.

Director

The Music School was founded at Ole Miss in 1930, but it was not until 1934 that it was authorized. Courses are offered to students who want a bachelor of music degree as well as courses that are accepted in the School of Liberal Arts.

ESTELLA G. HEFLEY, B.A., M.A.

Dean of Women

Miss Hefley controls the conduct of the women students at Ole Miss. She directs their activities, as well as solve the daily problems that arise among them. Miss Hefley has shown her efficiency and willingness to cooperate with the women students in the daily routine of discharging her duties as Dean of Women.

JAMES L. MEADOW, B.A.

Director of Publicity

Filling the vacancy left by McDonald Horne, James Meadow, and his staff, have most efficiently served the school as Publicity Director. Heretofore, little or no recognition had been received by Ole Miss, but with the newly acquired Director, news of the University of Mississippi is printed in all the leading newspapers.

RICHARD MALCOLM GUESS, B.S., M.A.

Dean of Men

Dean Guess is one of the most valuable men on the Ole Miss Campus. He, as Dean of Men, works out with the students, the problems that occur every day. He teaches the men students the value of college life and tries to put them on the right road to obtain this value in its fullest capacity. Dean Guess is also General Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. and heads the religious activities on the Campus.

S T R A T I O N . .

EDGAR LEE WALKER, B.A.

Director of Athletics and Physical Education

Every student who enters the University of Mississippi has to participate in some form of athletics his first two years. The Athletic Department supervises this work and through a variety of sports they have succeeded in keeping the interest and cooperation of the students.

JEFFERSON KOGER HAMM, B.S.

Alumni Secretary

The Alumni Secretary has many duties to perform. It is through this office that the alumni are informed as to the activities of the students. Furthermore, the duty lies in this position to make all arrangements for athletic games the University participates in.

W. C. TROTTER, B.A.

Secretary of the University

The Secretary of the University at the University of Mississippi is next in importance to the Chancellor. He has many duties to perform among which are the supervision of the Cafeteria and Laundry. All improvements on buildings and grounds are under his supervision also. Mr. Trotter has served most capably in this position.

'Way down south in Mississippi, there's a spot that ever calls,
Where among the hills enfolded stand old Alma Mater's halls.
Where the trees lift high their branches to the whispering Southern breeze,
There Ole Miss is calling, calling to our hearts' fond memories.

With united hearts we praise thee, all our loyalty is thine,
And we hail thee, Alma Mater, may thy light forever shine;
May it brighter grow and brighter, and with deep affection true,
Our thoughts shall ever cluster 'round thee, dear old Red and Blue.

May thy fame throughout the nation, through thy sons and daughters grow;
May thy name forever waken in our hearts a tender glow;
May thy counsel and thy spirit ever keep us one in this,
That our own shall be thine honor now and ever, dear Ole Miss.

Ole Miss PRESENTS . .

As an essential part of the University Administration, the "Ole Miss" wishes to present the Student activities with their various leaders.

The MISSISSIPPI LAW JOURNAL

Journal of Mississippi State Bar

The Mississippi Law Journal was founded in 1928. It is the official publication of the Mississippi State Bar, and is published under its auspices by students of the Law School of the University of Mississippi. The Journal publishes the proceedings of the Annual Meeting of the State Bar, articles by eminent writers on legal subjects, notes and comments on recent decisions by student writers, reviews of current treatises on the general subject of the law, and other matters of interest to the legal profession.

The Journal is at present in its ninth volume, which includes four issues during the school year of 1936-37.

Realizing the responsibility which has been placed on them, the Editor and Business Manager, with the excellent cooperation of both staffs, have done their utmost to give the Student Body a yearbook that will justify the trust accorded them. Although the constructive work on the book was delayed for a month, due to the absence of an Editor, there are no apologies or excuses to be offered for this edition; it represents the best of their ability. Certain changes have been made in the compiling of this edition, and certain new features have been added. All the decorative features have been suggested by artists. The Staff sincerely hopes that all meets with the approval of the students.

In APPRECIATION

To Chester H. Curtis, Editor of the 1936 OLE Miss, the Editor and Business Manager wish to express their deepest appreciation. It was through his incessant efforts that the Ole Miss Annual was placed on the fee basis, and it was as a result of his remarkable work in making the 1936 OLE Miss the greatest annual in the history of the school, that the fee basis became a permanent policy to be followed in years to come. The Editor is further grateful for the helpful suggestions rendered by him toward making the Annual of this year a worthy successor to the book last year.

The MISSISSIPPIAN

The Mississippian, official publication of the Ole Miss Student Body, has this year under the capable direction of Albert Russell as editor and Scott Tennyson as business manager, achieved its highest point of efficiency.

For the first time in the history of University journalism, the Mississippian has received national attention. The paper was increased to a regular seven-column, eight-page publication with special twelve-page editions at intervals during the year. Its head style was revolutionized in accordance with the modern standards of college editing. Its editorial policy has been proclaimed the best-balanced in the paper's history. Its stories have won reprints in papers all over the South.

Its news writing has shown thought and ability, and the news and sports staffs are to be commended on the clear, concise journalistic style which have been characteristic of the paper this year. The editors pay tribute to the staff for its cooperation and helpful attitude manifested throughout the year. Especially are the efforts of Billy Gates, John Kuykendall, Mary Alice Triplett, Billy Hix,

Professor McDonald Horne, who served as critical adviser to the publication this year, was a great aid to the staff in its work. But the efforts of these men would have been completely to no avail had not the staff as a whole been an example of perfect coordination and cooperation.

The financial end of the paper was for the first time put on the sound basis of special audit under the supervision of Scott Tennyson. The present business manager of the Mississippian is responsible for the largest sale of advertising ever to appear in the University publication. It was through the work of the business staff that the Mississippian now has one of the largest circulations of any southern college newspaper. The work of Richard Watson, Prescott Sherman, and Joe Eddins have contributed much to the success of this important department of the paper.

THE University Band is the center of pride of the University of Mississippi. Through the Band, the true spirit of Ole Miss is shown. At pep meetings, football games, and concerts, the Band inspires Ole Miss students and creates the intangible feeling for the Alma Mater that only an Ole Miss student can appreciate. Under the direction of Mr. R. N. Whitfield, a man who has been on the campus only one year, but has shown by his incessant hard work that through him the resources of the

On a recent tour, Mr. Whitfield carried the Band to Blue Mountain, Corinth, Aberdeen, Columbus, and Mississippi State where they played afternoon and night concerts. Through Mr. Whitfield's efforts, a program is now in progress that will increase the Band from fifty-two members to approximately seventy members, which will make the Ole Miss Band one of the leading bands in the South.

P L A Y E R S . .

The University Players represent the interest of Ole Miss in Dramatic Art. The purposes of the Players are to increase the resources of the University in dramatic leadership, to raise standards and appreciation of dramatic literature, to give opportunity for an ever-increasing desire for dramatic self-expression, and to develop leadership for dramatic work in school, church, and community.

Many plays are read by the University Players in order to appreciate the better qualities of dramatic literature. Some outstanding plays presented by the University Players during the past two years are "Lil-
iom," "The Twelve-Pound Look," "The

Londonderry Air," "To the Ladies," "The Bishop's Candlesticks," "Great Possessions," "The Bethlehem Road," "Grandma," "Old Style," "The Lost Silk Hat," and "Thirty Minutes in a Street."

The current group of University Players, under the direction of W. Dwight Wentz, is composed of Scott Tennyson, assistant director; Lee Alford, stage manager; Emma Jean Arthurs, Mack Blackwood, Doris Bond, Margaret Brady, James Emerson, Sykes Hartin, Billy Hix, Dick Keye, John Kuykendall, Buchanan Lassiter, Charles Lawrence, Russell Lindsey, Louise Lindsey, John Parker, Mary Elizabeth Purser, Archie Sturdivant, and Annie Lou Wall.

To long be remembered are the Mid Terms of 1937, with the delightful music played "Kay Kyser's Way"—the climax of Ole Miss' social calendar.

HOWARD DAVIS AND
MARGARET TREPPENDAHL, LEADERS OF
THE GRAND MARCH

Dressed in our best frock—the one with shiny white stuff, all flecked with gold and bronze—and with the best smile that could be mustered—shaky, but a wee bit self-confident, we set out to take in Mid-Terms—all three of them.

The gym was decorated with red streamers, in anticipation of Valentine's Day. With such a perfect setting, combined with perfect music, it shall remain the greatest Valentine Day of all times at Ole Miss.

The "Genial" Kay and his "Rascals of Rhythm" set a new high in entertainment here. As one Southerner to another—with a typical greeting of "evenin', folks—how y'all," the most successful of Ole Miss Mid-Terms got under way, featuring the O. D. K., PIX, Five Crown, MOAKS, and Blue Key leadouts.

With a "Georgie Porgie, Puddin' an' Pie"—some fun, eh, kid? Ish Kabibble made his appearance to bring the roof down with applause, only to be followed by petite Nancy Nelson, who in her own sweet style added much to the beauty of every song she sang. Sully Mason, Bill "Smiling" Stoker, and Arthur Wright also sang their way into the hearts of all.

Two dedications—the only two—are not to be overlooked. The first of these went to none other than "Chucko, the Don Juan of the Campus." Of course, Mr. Chuck Trotter was glad to see his talent recognized. The second was accorded to Professor "Long John Contracts" Fox, who with much gusto, as well as reserved dignity, danced to "I'll Be Glad When You're Dead, You Rascal, You," in such a manner that every Law Student shook in his shoes.

So thus, for three delightful times, Ole Miss had its fun. Such Mid-Terms are to always be remembered as outstanding events in the college life of every student.

MISS DOROTHY BUTTS SHOWS
THE GOVERNORS AROUND

the GOVERNOR OF MISSISSIPPI the GOVERNOR OF LOUISIANA

November seventh, 1936, marked a day in the annals of Ole Miss that is unprecedented. On that day, in the promotion of a truer and deeper spirit of friendliness, mutually cherished in the hearts of all Southerners, the University proclaimed its first "Governors' Day." The executives of Mississippi and Louisiana, Governors Hugh L. White and Richard Leche, respectively, were those honored. Accompanying them were their wives and military staffs. Outstanding, also, in the crowds that gathered for the occasion were the members of the Mississippi State Legislature.

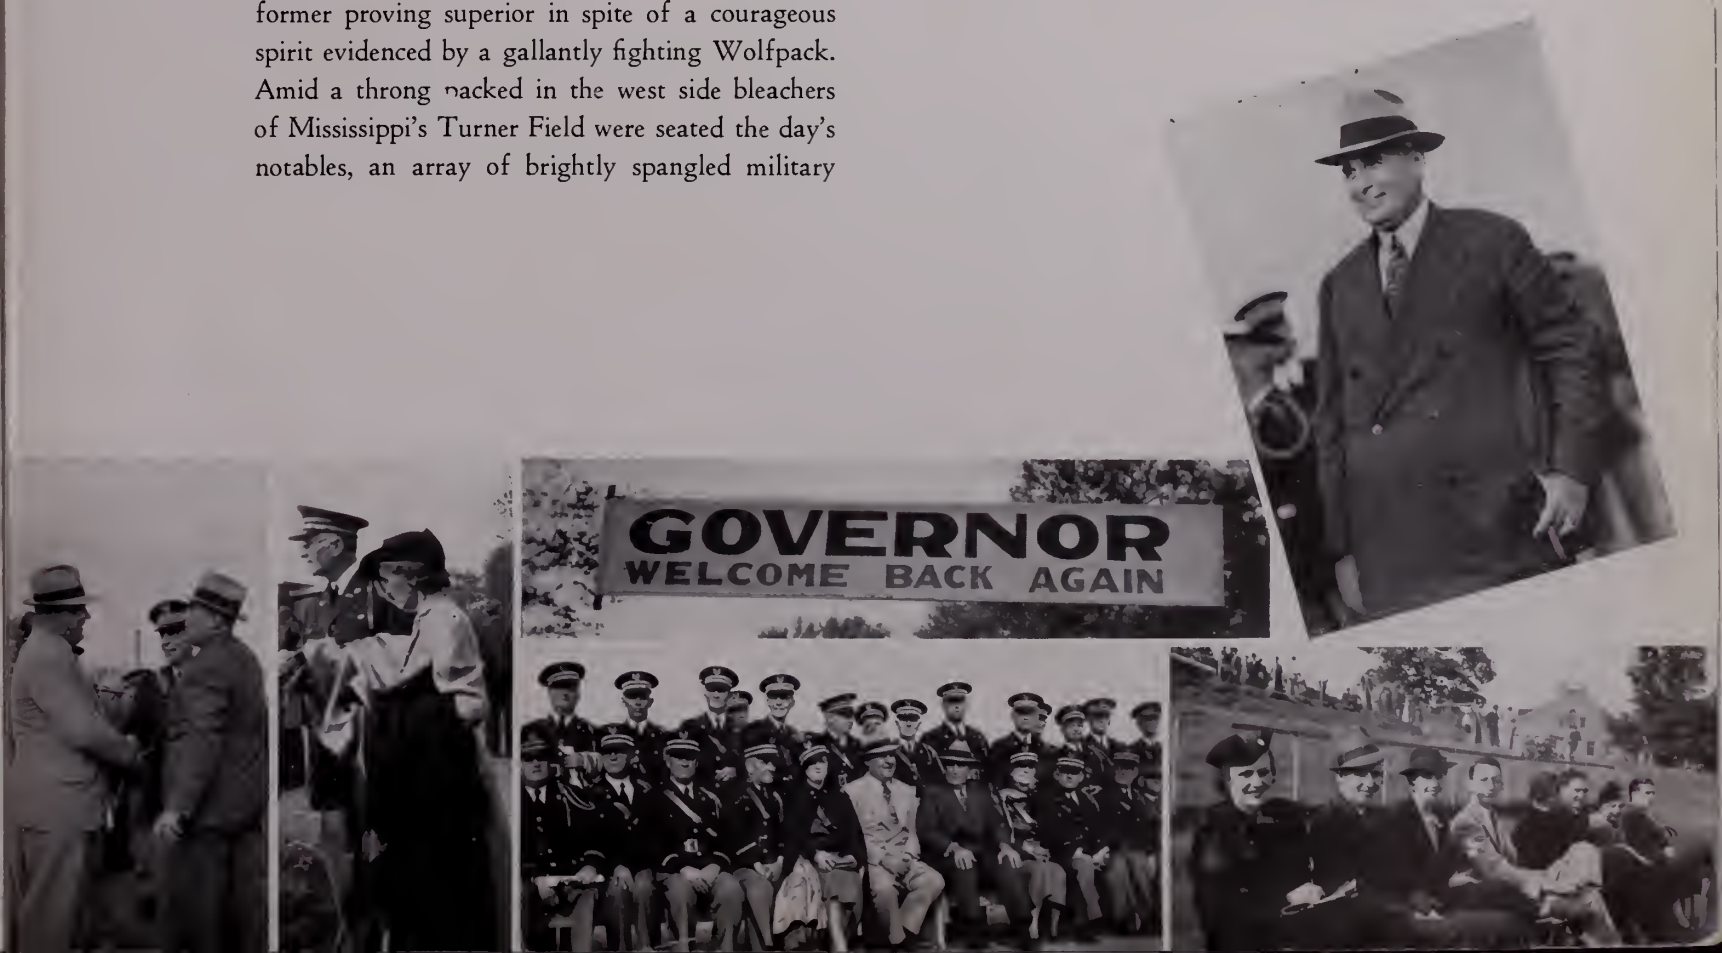

Nothing was omitted in making this initial Governors' Day one of the biggest campus events of the year. Inaugurated by a lively concert, a presentation of the Ole Miss Band, in the late forenoon, "Governors' Day" was acclaimed. Following this hearty welcome, dinner in the University Cafeteria for the official party was in order.

The foremost attraction of the day, around which the festivities of the occasion were centered, was a football game between the Rebels of Ole Miss and the Loyola Wolves of New Orleans, the former proving superior in spite of a courageous spirit evidenced by a gallantly fighting Wolfpack. Amid a throng packed in the west side bleachers of Mississippi's Turner Field were seated the day's notables, an array of brightly spangled military colonels lending a harmonious background to the setting. Both on the gridiron and in the stands was there a real manifestation of true sportsmanship, thus carrying out the dominant motive of the day.

Nightfall failed to close the celebrations of "Governors' Day"; rather, found an assemblage of students, Ole Miss faculty members, and visitors paying tribute to Governors White and Leche, their attendants, and to Chancellor Butts of Ole Miss, with a colorful and brilliant ball in the University Gymnasium. Featured in the evening's entertainment was the grand march led by none other than Mississippi's distinguished chief executive, Hugh L. White. Such was the reception. It merited the praise of everyone and will long be remembered by those who witnessed the resplendent occasion.

Successfully ended a memorable day in Ole Miss' history, bringing closer together two of our nation's greatest states, two of our most outstanding governors, and two of the South's greatest football teams, all supported beautifully by the sons and daughters of the University of Mississippi.

HALL OF FAME

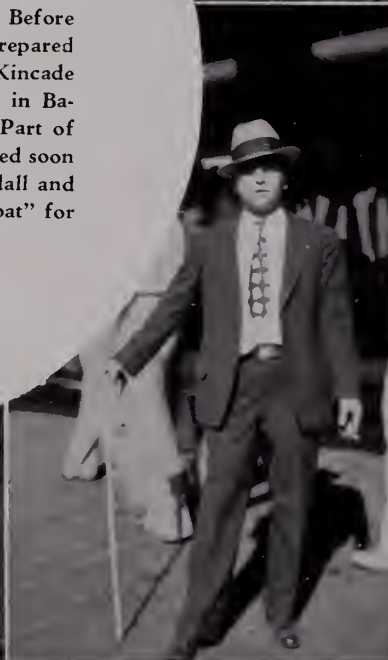

To become a member of the Hall of Fame is indeed the highest honor that may be paid to a member of the Ole Miss Student Body. This contest is annually sponsored by the Mississippian, and is entirely void of politics. The members that are selected are those students who have done most toward making Ole Miss a better school in the estimation of a committee of twenty-five outstanding students impartially selected by Chancellor A. B. Butts, Miss Estella Hefley, Dean of Women; R. Malcolm Guess, Dean of Men; Miss Frances Furr, President of Y. W. C. A.; and Albert Russell, Editor of the Mississippian.

Freshman Stunt Night

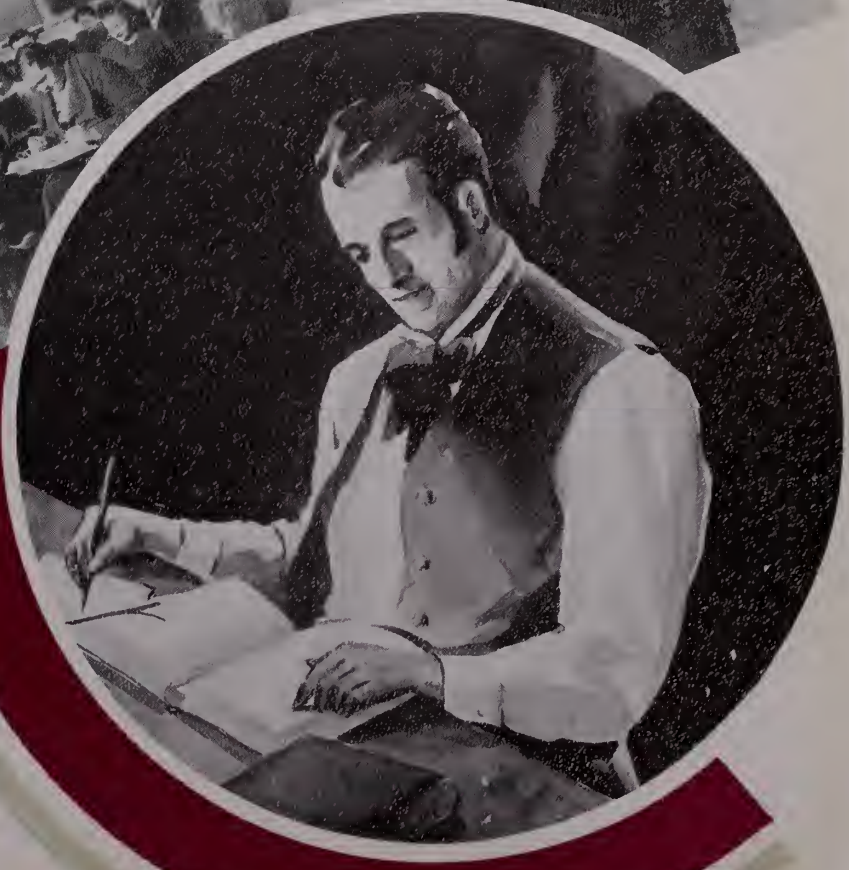

Sponsored annually by Blue Key, National Honorary Fraternity, Freshman Stunt Night has come to be one of the most important events on the Ole Miss campus. Only members of the Freshman Class and transfers participate in the presentation, and this year's entertainment has been acclaimed as the best ever to have been presented.

Classes

*H*AVING successfully completed their undergraduate work, and in order to better prepare themselves for the execution of their duties to the vocation which they choose as their life's work, we present those students who have entered the Graduate School.

C L A S S

FOUR years have come; as many have gone. Those who joined together their hearts and interests just yesterday, as Freshmen, those who have withstood the test of four years' teachings, those who have faithfully served the best interests of the University, have come to their last college milepost as the same youthful but more sedate and wiser union. 'Tis true that some have left their ranks since the beginning, but others have united with them along the way, the latter number being comprised of students from various other colleges, together with the Seniors in the Ole Miss School of Law. Although varied have been their activities, they have sought and attained an admirable spirit of unity, a spirit not to be broken by departure, nor crushed in disunion.

At the threshold of graduation comes that inevitable feeling of meditation. Thoughts of bygone days envelop the mind. Those yesterdays which brought happiness as well as hard work steal their way into consciousness. Pleasant associations must be left behind to become nothing more than happy memories. These things it is that have made a college education worth the while.

The period in life, however, that has been a cherished hope since days of childhood is now realized. New visions, new hopes, new expectations, now arise from out of the distance to become almost sudden realities. Professions and positions are to be filled. The real test is at hand. They, who now take leave of this great University, set out with determination to occupy those professions and positions for which they have so patiently and diligently equipped themselves. They are men and women of a new generation ready to meet life fair and square, face to face.

We present the Class of Nineteen Hundred Thirty-seven.

*A*ND one small head could carry all he knew." Such is Goldsmith's characterization of a village schoolmaster of his day. We would alter this characterization only in meaning to distinguish a member of our Junior Class. Indeed, the work the members of this class have done in the interim of three years has enhanced greatly their stores of knowledge as well as their aptitudes.

Yet, the accomplishments of three years seem small when the perspective of the future is scanned. As the ultimate attainment, however, appears less distant, the future grows brighter. The ardent zeal of Freshman days is re-awakened. There is no time to falter now, nor is the pace to be slackened. There is still a great deal to be achieved. They must go on.

At the end of the Junior year there is a greater realization that soon life, life in its truest meaning, must be dealt with. The glory of college days will be ended in only a short while. Character must be molded more firmly and foundations must be laid with greater strength to meet any and all conditions that lie ahead.

We present the Class of Nineteen Hundred Thirty-eight, a class that has realized what the future means and are striving to prepare themselves accordingly.

CLASS

THE novelty wears away. The first hurdle is cleared. A spirit of independence is felt as the Sophomores come thundering back to school. New barriers of seemingly less eminence loom ahead as a new zeal to cross them evidences itself. Too, the inevitable air of importance assumes its distinctiveness. The feeling of inferiority completely reverses its former self.

With possibly more, or even less ambition, the Sophomores resume both their curricula and extra-curricula activities and interests they began a year earlier. Whether that zeal be greater or less, they at least have a feeling of safety and self-reliance. With the first obstacle overcome, a vague apparition, that of finishing and graduation, settles within their hearts.

Included in the presentation of the Sophomore Class is the class of first year law students. This classification is customary, for it is these two groups who together will receive their proper degrees. Here, too, we see the fulfillment of the purpose of the University. Nineteen hundred thirty-nine will find a composite of many groups, representations of the various branches of learning, assembling together as another great Senior Class.

With the ending of a second year, we see a change. The period of irresolution, the spirit of frivolity, the lack of prudence—all now begin to vanish and become indistinct. We see humble, steadfast, and zealous students emerging to fill the ranks vacated before them. At this juncture and in this light, we present the Sophomores.

CLASS

NEW arrivals—fraught with new ideas, blazing with new ideals, burning with new ambitions, shining with new glamour, and the Freshmen take their place on the campus. But what, exactly, is that place into which they fit? Is it one in the background, one of inconspicuousness and obscurity? Yet, need we even ask this question.

Seniors may lose their poise and dignity, Juniors their brilliance, but are those who have most recently conquered that great beginning, the Sophomores, dismayed at these new arrivals? Nay. The battle for supremacy is just beginning. And who is the victor? We venture to make no predictions.

Ole Miss presents to its Freshmen each year many extra-curricular activities in order that each and every one may take part in molding a stronger personality within himself. These varied interests, along with a broad scope of scholastic work, establish a sound foundation on which future years are built. Incentives of various sorts are offered to the Freshmen so that they may be instilled with a desire to accomplish those things that require meritorious service. In this light, the University is a great asset to them, and later, as upperclassmen, they can in turn prove their worth to the University.

Thus, we wish to present, with proper emphasis and due credit, the Class of Nineteen Hundred Forty, one of the most promising Freshman classes of recent years. Varied have been their activities, notable their year's achievements, and persistent their ambitions.

Picks the Beauties---

Evidenced by his illustrations that he possesses the ability to not only produce beauty, but to also judge it, the Editor wishes to thank Mr. Petty for selecting the Beauties for the 1937 "Ole Miss."

"They're very glamorous, Colonel"

Mr. Petty takes the largest moose out of Alaska this year; he also likes to hunt "dears." Reading left to right: The guide, cook, and Mr. Petty.

THIS Sorority Stew is a recipe for diplomatic doings that is a blend of beauties from the ranks of our local lassies. Admission to this female faction is based on the political power of the Greek girls. The outstanding activity of these charmers is pooling their assets to cover the camera charge of decorating this page. Incidentally, their spare effort is directed toward rush rules which limit the tears shed per season.

THIS sisterhood is an international order (the United States and Mississippi) that brought its staggering sisters to the local campus in the last year of the gay nineties. It took this group only four years to arrive at our local layout, as their birthday occurred in 1895. They bear a banner of cardinal and straw, significant of 87 chapters that selected a white carnation for floral identification. Traveling a path beaten by Vi James, they transport over time under the license of Tau.

THE above man-mad maidens boast of mutual pin-wearers in eighty other similar institutions. Their tri-triangles were constructed in 1888, and imported here in 1904, under the standards of silver, gold, and blue. These ladies prefer a pansy—in botanical form—as their emblem of a sisterly love and less. Having quality and quantity under one green roof, they shed annual tears for the sake of Chi of Tri-Delta.

PHI MU

Maybe its age before beauty, but this group constantly claims to be the mother of all Greek daughters. Basing this much-debated claim on the fact that their Greek ancestors first took oath to a bond in 1852, these sisters first encamped on our grounds in 1924. Their camp colors of rose and white, fly over 59 foreign fields. Known to friends, sisters, and the press as Alpha Delta Chapter, this order boasts roses, white carnations, and the campus' best-looker.

FOR exactly twenty semesters, or ten years, the Kappa Delta crew has annually undertaken a conquest for pledges and politicians. The success of their ventures is proudly presented by their possession of the lady that rules the ladies—in brief, the prexy of the Women's Council. The initial get-together of this clan occurred in 1897, and 68 offsprings exist today. The local lassies dubbed their clan Alpha Mu and took oaths to uphold green and white, and raise only white roses.

DELTA GAMMA

UNDER the guiding hands of three lassies from north of the Ohio, this group became organized this year, although they had their original origin in this neck of the woods at the Oxford Seminary for Women in 1873. Pledged to support the banner bearing bronze, pink and blue, these ladies wear the cream-colored rose.

HERE you find melting-pot of the Greeks —melting from the torrid temperature of lengthy less learned verbal heat waves.
 This brain trust has become a mutual plane for activity-minded pin-bearers who meet, argue rush rules for their particular clan's advantage, adopt several meaningless matter-of-form rules, adjourn, prey on the press, and rush their prepaid photos to this good book.

DELTA KAPPA EPSILON

Here's a clique that brags a long white beard, having sworn secrecy back in the gold rush days of 1844. Ninety-three years of national maneuvers are based on the gold standard of exclusive elites. The crimson, gold and azure colors were first unfurled locally in 1850—a sufficient dark age for the currently criticized pansy to have been chosen for the lapel. Rush talk is based on the shutout system of holding chapters to forty-six medium.

UNCLE TONY'S tribe sees all, knows all, and tells nothing. Admitting only nine chapters since 1847, each operating under the guiding hand of a patron saint, these hooded figures of the night drew local documents in 1855. Tony's lads advertise blue and gold, Governor White, and a pin that is never unworn. The ever-pinned pin is said to bear a Greek or Yiddish word or three on the wrong side, sacred and secret to its legitimate bearers.

THIS ship of secrecy set sail in 1852, under the colors of red and green. A five-year voyage led to the local dry docking; however, their crew of fellowship has charted a course of fifty-two ports. Their shore leave in these parts was temporarily recalled by the ship of state, when they anchored all Greek clans in 1914. With anchors aweigh, they sail the sea of fellowship, with an eye for the A. S. B. vice-prexy.

SIGMA CHI

THE local regiment of the Norman Cross enlisted in 1857, two years after their national call to arms. The regimental colors are blue and gold, that fly over 95 other encampments. Their floral insignia bears a white rose, which is significantly ordered in lots of four. This military power stands for safety in numbers, signified by the large roll of recruits listed as faculty and student soldiers of the Cross.

THIS army represents the local central power, numerically speaking. Minerva sounded her first call to arms in 1856. Since then, 108 chapters and one lion have answered. They encountered this battle-ground in 1866, marching in to the strains of the battle hymn, "Violets," bearing the colors of purple and gold. The military staff of Dawson and Keye have recruited a mass of men to bear the violet forward.

AS this clan dates back to 1859, they, likewise, can safely prefer a pansy to complete their emblems of white and gold. Their garden was first planted on this campus in 1884, being one of seventy-five similar set-ups. Filing claim on several campus political bosses, these boys annually participate in Mississippi's favorite sport—politics.

"WELL, SUH," here's our gentlemen of the old South—the knights of the Confederacy. This cottonland order points a proud finger at Robert E. THE Kappa Sigma flowed into our neck of the woods eleven years ago; six years after prohibition. These guys prefer lilies-of-the-valley and an array of color—scarlet, green, and white. They owe their success to the bygone days of 1869, when the first step toward one hundred and eight was taken. Their main advertisement is one Morgan and an ex-editor sometimes referred to as Dan Russel, for publicity among the charmers.

THE Pi Kappa Phi boys are still in the flower of youth in this Grecian world. They waited for the turn of this century to clasp hands over a common cause, and first wore pins in 1904. At the tender age of thirteen they encountered this Greek-infested campus, bearing gold and white streamers. They, also, wear the red rose that signifies Greek kinsmen in forty-two similar universities.

THIS is the still new, youngest, child of the Mississippi Greek family. After 32 years of spreading brotherhood around 32 campi, these lads invaded this Greek-mad campus just two years ago. White carnations grow in their garden, too, and the royal purple and gold ribbons mean sacred fellowship to them. Only twenty-four months young, those lads can chalk up such successes as the recent Mose Wander and the present Melvin Dovith.

Athletics

The REBEL YELLS

Balanced in minds of the teams of '96 and '36 was one central idea—win for Ole Miss.

Those ancient warriors fought their battles alone and practically unaided, however; but not so the modern version.

The boys who charged through for the Red and Blue back in the good ole days displayed their talents minus all save a few scattered efforts at cheering, working their way to glory of Alma Mater with scattered and off-fashioned brands of equipment to accompaniment of no brass bands, special trains, accompanying functions and traditions—and no cheering section.

With the scene changed to today's trend, a vastly different sight is pictured. Neatly clad cheerleaders, working behind tremendous spirit and enthusiasm, aided by a smartly clad, smartly marching band, and a volumage of spectators far over and above any ancient mark, take sections of students and onlookers and make them unify their voices and actions to the extent the '36 Rebel is charged with far more backing and color than his predecessor.

Eddie Mack Morgan directed cheers this past season.

Working with him were O'Dell Sanders, head cheerleader the year previous, Christine Murphree, Lelia Terry and Billy Joyner. As individuals they stood out, and as a unit, they had few equals from over the southland.

RESUME OF REBEL SPORTS

FOOTBALL

Five games won, five lost and two tied. Not a victory season in any sense of the term, but one from which Ole Miss garnered the largest amount of publicity ever received by a Rebel unit. Hard luck in its most manifold form hounded the squad, but, regardless, the 28-man squad traversed practically all important Eastern and mid-Western points in traveling 11,000 miles for the 12 opponents.

BASKETBALL

Ole Miss lacked height, had everything else, but still could not compete on anything like even terms with taller teams. Nevertheless, the Rebels ranked third in conference standings, took 20 of 26 games, and saw a difference of six points separate them from the only conference squad able to take a winning margin in the three encounters played.

BOXING

Again, a nationally publicized unit, with the gains received manifold. Matches with conference aggregations gave the Rebs two victories and three defeats. The conference tourney produced a conference champion, and the National Golden Gloves and Intercollegiates gave Ole Miss two finalists. A great year.

BASEBALL

The 1936 combine was not a winning one, but did show on the occasions it was blessed with capable pitching that mound strength was all needed in order for it to compete on even terms with even the loop champions.

TRACK

The thinclads moved through two opponents, lost to another pair, and won by a wide margin the team championship in the Southeastern A. A. U. meet in Memphis. One new school record was established by Robert Kincade in the mile run.

TENNIS

Seven victories of nine matches gave the tennis squad the best year it has ever achieved. Capable talent displayed Red and Blue form throughout the southland.

GOLF

For the second successive year, a perfect record was established. No one outfit in the conference could point to the dual-match standards established by the Rebels in this field.

HEAD COACH ED WALKER

and COACHING STAFF

Still battering away at a near-deficit pocketbook, but able to check results made over a period of seven seasons with a deal of satisfaction, the six guardians of Rebel athletic destinies can hopefully look to the future as one wherein tutoring efficiency will be matched with an abundance of talent, and Ole Miss can keep its head unbowed in competition.

Goals of championship teams in all sports are the dream of Athletic Director Ed Walker and his aids; they have a right to feel confident Ole Miss will climb the heights.

Ed Walker, chief director of football activity and strategist extraordinary, receiving his grid background under the tutelage of Glenn "Pop" Warner, football's "Ole Fox," has successfully applied Warner tactics to Rebel campaigns to the extent Ole Miss is a nationally recognized power. One of Warner's gems, Walker has set an example for perseverance and integrity second to none in Uncle Sam's wide-spread domains. The gratitude and applause of the University go to him for the untold benefits he has made possible for Ole Miss in athletics, and more particularly in football.

Charles "Chuck" Smalling, another Stanford product, trained under Warner, has been a valuable worker with Walker as backfield coach. Knowing well the intricacies which make the Warner system click, Smalling has been of untold aid in producing men able to fit in the deceptive style of play unfolded. He came to Ole Miss in 1930 at start of the new regime, and since 1934 has handled track fortunes. George "Doc" Bohler, an athlete of the old school, who came to Ole Miss in capacity of trainer in 1935, but since has handled basketball, has made for himself a niche unfillable save by his gruff but kindly personality and untold capabilities. This spring he was given the job of aiding with football.

Relied on mainly for an uncanny ability to diagnose and treat every type ailment, Bohler is responsible to many extents for the upward surge taken by Rebel athletics. Good condition calls for improved performances and Bohler literally makes those words his Bible.

In basketball he has brought the sport up to where Ole Miss is recognized a championship contender. Webb Burke, one of Ole Miss' most famed sons, has continued athletic prowess into a successful coaching venture and is firmly established as an integral part of the Rebel athletic staff in capacity of line tutor. Burke's knowledge of football is vast, and his direction of forewall training for the Rebs has brought consistent improvements.

COACH WEBB BURKE
Ole Miss graduate, football line coach and assistant coach in baseball.

COACH CHARLES "CHUCK" SMALLING
Stanford alumnus, backfield coach in football, boxing director, and track mentor.

Tad Smith is the send graduate of the University on the coaching staff. Freshman mentor, Smith has the task of working with raw, untrained talent, guiding it on its first stages of development at Ole Miss. His job is a thankless one, and added to it are the trials of checking his charges through daily scrimmages with the varsity. Smith has given much to the University, and the institution owes him a full vote of confidence and thanks.

Jesse Alderman has handled ring conditions at Ole Miss the past four years, and has lifted the sport from out its ruck to a place second in publicity only to football. His work has been continuous, lasting from first of school to the last. A word to his universal credit can be listed: Ole Miss boxing teams have shown constant improvement since he first took charge.

OUR TRAINER "DOC" BOHLER IN ACTION

FOOTBALL at OLE

Punctured at important spots by defeats, refused the benefit of the doubt when progress was hardest, and the recipient of small consideration for magnificent efforts, the 1936 football record turned in by a great band of Ole Miss Rebels nevertheless was proved the best ever achieved by the Red and Blue when all factors are taken into consideration.

On the bare face of actual results in games won and lost—five victories, the same number of defeats, and two ties—and considering the class of beaten opponents, the Rebels were decidedly in arrears as a winning grid outfit.

But if considering publicity garnered, checking actual results of all games played and reasons for close defeats, to major teams of the nation, figuring the twelve-game schedule and reasons for its arrangement, and benefits derived from that list, then the Johnny Rebs could be called nothing save a successful aggregation of gridders.

The entire squad was called on to play body and soul for stretches of encounters simply because key members of the twenty-eight-man organization were often injured. They had to face Union, Tulane, Temple, George Washington, Louisiana State, Catholic U., Centenary, Loyola, Marquette, Mississippi State, Miami U., and Tennessee without let-up.

There was nothing staggered about that schedule. It was simply a case of drive and drive, with no rest for eleven solid weeks.

A known football power, but not of sufficient drawing strength and prestige to be scheduled by the larger "name schools" of the conference, who could not suffer defeats at hands of Ole Miss for the gain to be realized from an engagement, the Rebels were forced to take games where they could, and at locations best suited to the opposition.

After inaugurating the new athletic sobriquet "REBELS" against Union University of Jackson, Tennessee; they lost to Tulane in a game two and three-fourths minutes too short; drove through Temple only to go under on last-minute passes; bogged in ankle-deep mud while tackling inferior George Washington, staged a desperate defensive battle against L. S. U. that found them shining even in defeat; smashed Catholic U., Centenary and Loyola by ever increasing scores; moved against a Marquette eleven gone wild behind a "have to win spirit"; found that State College could have a day, even if it did take ten years to "arrive," came back against Miami U. and split even with Tennessee to close the campaign.

The outstanding achievement performed individually by a Rebel was the winning of all-America tackle honors by F. M. "Bruiser" Kinard, 212 pounds of speed and charge, who was named to the two outstanding all-star picks of the year the all-America Board of Football Eleven and the Williamson System Team, selected by points systems from all units named. Kinard was unanimous selection for every all-Dixie and all-Conference team.

Seniors who worked with Kinard were men who figured heavily in every Rebel maneuver, and in his success: Captain Marvin Hutson, center; James "Buster" Poole, giant end; Curley Dickens, tackle; John Madre, Dave Wilson, Alex Breyer, guards; and Dave Bernard, Clarence Hapes and Ned Peters, all backfield workhorses. Ray Hapes turned loose to early season runs of 96 yards for touchdowns before hitting a tough road when injuries and alert opponents cut down heavily on his effectiveness.

Parker Hall, sophomore back, stepped in Ray's shoes to count heavily throughout the year. Country Graham, a self-made performer, Red Jackson and Red Parker, sophomore, came through well at the flanks. Bully White, J. P. Bilbo, guards; Frank Hart, tackle; Kimble Bradley and Herb Baumsten, quarterbacks; Monk Aston, center, and Billy Mann, back, were others who played important parts in Ole Miss' "publicity season." Throughout the year, in a majority of defeats, it was a nip and tuck struggle between Ole man hard luck and steady football opponents.

OLE MISS 45—UNION 0

Save for occasional fumbles, the Johnny Rebs reenacted the battle of Bull Run when they downed Union 45-0 on the campus to open the season.

A touchdown strut by brilliant running Ray Hapes for 96 yards proved the highlight of the game featured by constant driving by a benchfull of Rebels.

Hapes' run came in the first quarter to start the scoring. Big Hapes crashed through for eleven yards and the second score. Big Hapes, again, climaxed a drive of 87 yards. Ned Peters on the receiving end of a lateral from Buster Poole scampered 50 yards to count. Dave Bernard plunged for the fifth marker and Parker Hall threw for ten yards to Billy Mann for the final score. Extra points were place-kicked by Bernard, 2; and Bilbo.

OLE MISS 6—TULANE 7

Attempting to beat back a first touchdown by Tulane, Ole Miss pulled several strategical blunders, styled as losing mistakes by experts, to bow in an upset decision to Tulane, 7-6, in an opening conference game in New Orleans.

"Ole Miss' dream of empire shattered by Greenies" one streamer read, and literally it was so, for the Rebels had held pre-season hopes for an outstanding rating inside the conference.

The Rebs were touted the favorite team, and from start to finish, they constantly plunged through on a ground gaining offensive, save for a disastrous part of the third quarter, when Tulane did its scoring. Tulane counted on two questionable decisions, and won actually on lack of proper timing on the part of the officials.

The Greenies blocked a Reb punt early in the third quarter. Bucky Bryan had gone into the game to lead two goalward thrusts. Immediately before he tossed to Quarterback Bond for five yards and the points, Bryan fumbled the ball. It was immediately covered by an alert Rebel, but a fast whistle—much too fast—returned it to Tulane's possession.

On the actual scoring play, the field judge started to call the play out of bounds on the one-foot line, which would have given the ball to Ole Miss on downs, but finally ruled against the Red and Blue. The play could have been called either way, and such was the manner in which Tulane scored.

The whistle at end of the first half caught Ole Miss on the Greenie 14-yard line; it was a minute off. The whistle at the end of the game found Ole Miss on Tulane's nine-yard line, with one to go for a first down; it was one minute and 45 seconds off.

Ray Hapes' scintillating punt returning figured heavily in the Rebs' three touchdown drives during the first half. Hard plugging by Dave Bernard and Big Hapes were also important factors. Ineffective aerals and inopportune signal calling hindered movements, however, and Ole Miss was held scoreless.

Hard, effective pounding of Tulane's forewall, and short passes behind the line turned the tide in Ole Miss' favor as it drove downfield from past midfield to a touchdown. Culmination came when Big Hapes plunged for nine yards in two final attempts. Alex Breyer failed on the conversion.

A gesture by Ole Miss which went for naught resulted when Kimble Bradley took a lateral from Ned Peters, turned downfield with a blocker and allowed Bryan, at safety, to bring him down.

First downs went to Ole Miss, 11-5. Total yardage was in its favor at 205 to 108.

OLE MISS 7—TEMPLE 12

Staging a last-minute flurry on deep-seated luck, Temple's Owls, guided by Glenn "Pop" Warner, paid fluent attention to aerals to beat Ole Miss, 12-7, in the Rebs' first intersectional engagement in Philadelphia.

Playing at night, Mississippi scored by dint of a great run by Ray Hapes for 96 yards. Temple had counted via the air, and Hapes' magnificent jaunt pulled the count even immediately following. Bruiser Kinard's accurate place-kick gave the Rebels a one-point advantage they held until the last 45 seconds of play.

Constantly on the offensive, Ole Miss held the upper hand throughout a big part of the contest. It was on the Temple 10 and 12 during the first half, and worked to three scoring chances the second period.

Big Hapes, a counterpart of Frankenstein's monster, and Dave Bernard shot through Temple's forewall time and time again to keep drives rolling. But their efforts proved in vain, however, when the Owls secured the ball after an ill-omened field goal on the part of Ole Miss, threw caution to the wind, but also the ball with it, and advanced to the Rebels' four-yard line on five plays. A line buck failed, but an end sweep produced, and Warner's pupils were victorious over those of his pupil's, Ed Walker.

OLE MISS 0—GEORGE WASHINGTON 0

A second consecutive intersectional fray found Ole Miss encountering six inches of mud in addition to a team of defensive mudders in George Washington U., to take half honors in a 0-0 result at the nation's capital city.

Credit, if any was produced, went to George Washington, for the Colonels were touted an inferior team. They made the initial threat by advancing to Ole Miss' 17-yard line before losing the ball on an attempted field goal.

Bruiser Kinard blocked that attempt, and was a main factor in the Rebs' drives to enemy territory. Two scoring chances were produced, but mud added to an alert Colonel eleven halted Ray and Clarence Hapes, Dave Bernard and Ned Peters.

First downs went to Ole Miss, 8-5; yardage totals read 187-93, Ole Miss.

OLE MISS 0—LOUISIANA STATE 13

Two early goal-line stands proved of no avail against Louisiana State when Ole Miss was unable to hold off a highly concentrated Bengal aerial offensive, giving touch-downs in the second and fourth quarters to lose, 13-0.

Those passes proved Ole Miss' undoing, for L. S. U. was unable to stack up to the Rebs' ground maneuvers. Until they loosened up the tightly fashioned Mississippi defensive with throws generated by Pat Coffee, a really great back, the Bengals had places to go but no active means of getting there.

A fumble by Dave Bernard on the opening kickoff gave Louisiana a chance to chalk up a marker which it was unable to take advantage of.

Ole Miss took the ball four yards farther up the field, and proceeded to rip off two consecutive first downs. Bernard set the home squad back on its heels with a tremendous quick kick, but there the Rebels' advantage ended. A penalty for 15 yards gave L. S. U. the chance it needed to pass, and the first of several threatening drives was begun.

Louisiana counted its first touchdown by a great pass and run—Coffee to Gaynell Tinsley—for 78 yards. Tinsley shook off Ray Hapes to pick up 64 yards for the score.

Ole Miss followed in the second half, early, with an exact duplication of the performance, Parker Hall to Country Graham, but Graham dropped his chance after turning for a clear field.

FOOTBALL at OLE

If the Red and Blue had been able to push over that touchdown, L. S. U. would never have made its second six-pointer. The "if" failed to materialize, however, and, after passes had set the stage, Pinky Rhone darted through the Reb secondary for 16 yards to end scoring for the night.

Ole Miss' most sterling demonstration of strength came during the second half, when it stood off four potent Bengal drives from its one-foot line.

OLE MISS 14—CATHOLIC U. 0

In a third intersectional encounter, on the campus, Ole Miss staged a reversal of form and avenged an Orange Bowl defeat against Catholic U. by handing the Washington, D. C., eleven a sound thumping at 14-0.

Playing before 8,500 Homecoming Day fans, Ole Miss counted twice in an eventful second period on sharp aerials to roll up a margin Catholic could never seriously threaten. Parker Hall threw for 23 yards to Red Parker to give Ole Miss a 7-0 lead, after Bruiser Kinard had made good a placement attempt. Dave Bernard followed quickly with one for 37 yards to giant Buster Poole, who took it on the eight, shook off Irish Carroll and sped across. Kinard's boot was again good.

Mississippi had threatened early when Ray Hapes climaxed a 70-yard drive with a 12-yard scoring run. Called back, Parker Hall turned the same trick at the beginning of the second quarter, only to see his effort returned and another penalty imposed.

Little Hapes was a punt-return terror all the afternoon. His 230-pound brother, Clarence, Hall and Bernard were others who performed well. Kinard, Poole and Captain Marvin Hutson were forewall stalwarts.

OLE MISS 24—CENTENARY 7

Throwing a display of line smashing talent in against a rough Centenary eleven, Ole Miss cast caution to the wind in a wild fourth quarter to overcome a 6-7 deficit for a 24-7 victory in Shreveport.

Playing before a "fair" crowd of 8,500, the Rebels counted first behind steady plugging by Ned Peters and Clarence Hapes to take a short lived 6-0 margin. Capitalizing on a break, Centenary found an aerial defensive weakness on the part of the Reb secondary and made it 7-6 on Lee Stokes' accurate placekick.

The first one-sided score between the two schools, the game produced a Rebel team on the rampage and an outclassed Gentleman outfit, as Herb Baumsten directed assaults during the eventful fourth period.

Parker Hall, who took up Ray Hapes' burden, when the "Little Man" sprained an ankle, ended a 40-yard march for a touchdown to swing the balance back over in Ole Miss' favor. Then Marvin Hutson's interception at midfield generated another scoring surge. Mixing spinners with reverses and passes, the Red and Blue pushed Ned Peters across from the six-yard line.

MISS . . .

Peters again climaxed a drive, running for 20 yards for the final distance after Parker Hall had started the Rebels goalward with an interception on their 25-yard line.

The victory was disastrous, for Hapes' injury proved sufficiently severe to keep the "scoring genius" from an active part in four consecutive games.

OLE MISS 34—LOYOLA 0

Meeting a team which had whipped Catholic U., 6-0, and held Alabama to a 13-6 victory in Loyola of the South, Ole Miss drew first blood with sharp aeriels and went on to surge over the outclassed Wolves, 34-0, before Governors Richard Leche of Louisiana and Hugh L. White of Mississippi.

An official "Governor's Day," the first on the Ole Miss campus, Ole Miss gave the crowd its money's worth by staging an opening drama in three scenes—two line bucks and a long pass—three plays after the game began. And exactly six plays later, Ole Miss counted again, Dave Bernard running for 27 and 4 yards to score.

Parker Hall, a paragon of speed all day, turned left end for 19 yards to start a third scoring parade. His pass to Big Hapes and a subsequent six-yard dash made the third marker "all Hall."

Driving 79 yards to Loyola's nine, immediately after the start of the second half, Ole Miss lost the ball on downs. Bruiser Kinard regained it by blocking a punt, however, and Ned Peters sped through for 11 yards a play later to make the count read Ole Miss 27, Loyola 0.

Buster Poole took Big Hapes' pass over the goal line for the final touchdown. Kinard made good four of five points after touchdowns.

OLE MISS 0—MARQUETTE 33

Looking for revenge after a one-sided defeat the year previous, Ole Miss found nothing save a Golden Avalanche on the loose, and lost to those Marquette Hilltoppers in Marquette at 33-0.

Not as "off" as the score indicates, the Rebels were the victims of unfortunate circumstances and a situation which forced defensive football as their main line of play. On the other hand, Marquette, then a "hot" Rose Bowl prospect, had been held to 7-6 the week before by Creighton, and had to satisfy critics it was not merely an early season team.

The Golden Avalanche was the superior team, but it had to use questionable breaks supplied by officials to win. A blocked punt with disputed ownership of the ball gave Art Gueppe his chance to run right end for 12 yards and the first touchdown. A pass that narrowly missed interception, but bounded into the arms of a Hilltopper set the stage for the second score. A hotly disputed play on a punt when a Marquette player drop-kicked a loose ball out of bounds, opened the door for the third marker. The fourth "in error" decision put a punt out on Ole Miss' one-foot line, after it had hit the corner flag at the edge of the end zone.

Ole Miss was all set for a big show by Buzz Buvid. Instead, however, it was Art Gueppe, built low for speed, who turned loose the "heat" on Ole Miss.

The Rebels could not counter with Ray Hapes, a bench sitter, since his Centenary mishap, and their cause was lost before the game started, as it was proved.

OLE MISS 6—MISSISSIPPI STATE 26

A crazy-quilt mixture of shifting fortunes, the flip of a coin, superlative kicking by Ike Pickle, and a Mississippi State team, able to take advantage of breaks handed the Maroons a decisive victory over Ole Miss, 26-6, in its first in ten years in this annual classic.

Playing at State College, before 22,000 fans, the largest in the history of the Magnolia State, the Bullyaps surprised everyone, even themselves, with the brand of play they produced.

From start to finish, State's play was lauded and as action was produced, State earned the victory. But from down underneath, when all results were carded, it could be figured—and very easily—where State was sitting in the lap of good Dame Fortune when it won the ball game.

The Maroons counted early. Pickle set Ole Miss back on its five-yard line, booting with a strong north wind. Ned Peters' return kick traveled to the 24. A pass, Hight to Gelatka, two line plunges by Hight and a final try by Bill Steadman gave State its first marker.

Then, with the change of quarters, came one of the many breaks which favored the home team. Buster Poole, out in the clear and running fast, stuck finger tips on a long pass, only to see it roll off for an incomplection.

State couldn't keep the Rebels away in the third period. Ray Hapes, still suffering from effects of a bad ankle, turned loose for 16 yards on a punt return. Herb Baumsten followed with a 20-yard throw to Dave Bernard, who, fighting like a demon, dodged Dave Price and Bobby Hardison and went for 18 more yards for the touchdown.

Came another break and for State. Bernard, who played the game of his career, which is saying something, flipped a long pass to Country Graham on State's goal line to apparently climax a touchdown drive. The over-anxious Graham let it fall from his hands, though, to keep the Rebs from taking the lead. It was the turning point of the game, for Ole Miss had rolled up three consecutive first downs to that point and State was quitting fast.

The Maroons had Armstrong and Cross in on the last six-pointer. Pee Wee threw a pass to the waiting Cross, who sped for 30-yards to make it 26-6 as a final gesture. Good as State was on that November 21, and "off" as were the Rebels, no finer play had ever been produced on Scott Field before than was the brand displayed by Bruiser Kinard. He was magnificent. Captain Marvin Hutson, Baumsten, Bernard, and Poole were others playing strictly up to par.

OLE MISS 14—MIAMI U. 0

Ole Miss knocked Miami from the list of unbeaten teams, and did it by dint of unbroken marches of 50 and 80 yards, in opening and closing minutes of the game. The Brothers Hapes had a corner on the touchdown market; Ray getting the first on a three-yard pass from Dave Bernard, while Clarence battered his way from the one-yard line for the final. Bruiser Kinard made good both placement attempts.

Elusive Ray, the huge Clarence, Bernard and Ned Peters stood out in those drives, with passes, spinners, and reverses featured as the Rebels went to town behind steady blocking.

OLE MISS 0—TENNESSEE 0

A peculiar angle surrounds the 0-0 tie played with Tennessee December 5, in Memphis. The Rebels needed a minute more before they would have erased the "0" showing on their side of the scoreboard. They were the superior ball club, but had not proved it the way it counts at the end.

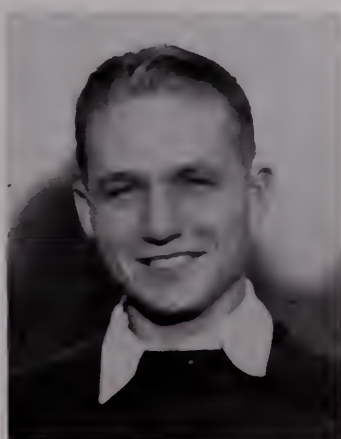

Statistics showed the two teams played to an exact draw. Both had 162 yards gained from scrimmage, and both turned in seven first downs.

Passes accounted for Ole Miss' final minute drive to the Vol five. Ray Hapes had intercepted Wood's pass on his 45 and trotted to Tennessee's 34. Ned Peters picked up three more yards at left tackle, and Herb Baumsten passed to Buster Poole for five more. Dave Bernard threw to Country Graham on the Vol's 15, and Baumsten whipped one to Bernard on their five as the game ended.

Big Hapes, Bernard and Peters closed their careers in a blaze of glory as they pounded Tennessee's line time after time in a series of spinners which the Volunteers seemed unable to fathom. Bruiser Kinard, Buster Poole, Red Jackson, and Dave Wilson were shining lights in the Mississippi forewall. Captain Marvin Hutson, closing three years of great football, was one of the unsung heroes of the engagement. Time after time, he protruded his 210 pounds in the way of Vol thrusts to stop touchdown threats.

WE PAY TRIBUTE TO

Captain MARVIN HUTSON

Marvin Hutson, captain of Ole Miss' 1936 football team, truly exemplified every characteristic of a real leader when he guided the Red and Blue through perhaps its greatest campaign in recent years.

Packing 210 pounds, working aggressively through every minute of participation, serving both as an inspiration and example to Rebel teammates with type of play displayed, Hutson was truly one of the South's unsung performers of the year.

Never outplayed, and taking turns round the circuits of eastern and mid-western gridirons, as well as on his native Dixieland, Hutson shone even when playing alongside such aces as Bruiser Kinard, All-American tackle, and Buster Poole, giant wingman.

A better than average student, the graduating captain is scheduled to receive his master's degree in sociology this June. His work has been of such high calibre he may be retained as assistant in this department, in addition to possible duties in the athletic department.

Wherever Hutson goes, however, if his record as a football leader and player, and a gentleman and a scholar are criterions, he will succeed in life. Ole Miss wishes him well.

and FRANK M. "BRUISER" KINARD ALL-AMERICAN 1936

Given all-American acclaim for the first time to any representative of a state institution, Frank M. "Bruiser" Kinard as well became accepted as the finest tackle ever to come out of the south since inception of football below the Mason-Dixon line on a recognized basis.

FRANK M. "BRUISER" KINARD

To the "Bruiser" go the plaudits of the university and the state. No more deserving honor could be placed at the feet of this charger. With heart and soul, he played the grand ole game of football, and with a 10.4 speed in a six-foot one inch frame, has made his opponents like it.

Brains and undying spirit went far to make Kinard's efforts successful, but the sportsmanship which he carried into battle and the general good fellowship with which he surrounded his every move made him a standout in every respect.

His playing record included competition for 713 of a possible 730 minutes, with 683 attained in succession. He was given unanimous selection for all-conference and all-Dixie honors, and made every major All-American pick.

Opposing coaches and players were the ones most qualified to name Kinard as the highest type performer, and they unquestionably gave him recognition as the player of the year.

"Bruiser" Kinard,—a great football player, a fine student and a still finer gentleman—He's a true son of Ole Miss.

Our FUTURE STARS...

The FRESHMEN

Perhaps the best freshman grid squad since the days of Bruiser Kinard and Ray Hapes represented Ole Miss this past season. Certainly more capable from a numerical standpoint, the group possessed every talent known to football, and turned in an undefeated record as a result.

A firm step forward was made when Coach Tad and Assistant Ralph Mills, allowed more practicing time through longer absences of the varsity, gave the Baby Rebs complete instructions in intricacies of offensive warfare.

One-sided victories over Goodman, for two years state champions in the junior college field, 20-3, and Mississippi State's yearling aggregation, 19-0, were produced by aials propelled by Williard Bisbing and Bill Fry, hard running by a dozen able backs, and consistently good kicking by Billy Kidd.

Ham Murphy and Jack Ward figured in victories with their work at the flanks. Jack Lane, captain and center; Allen Young, guard; Monio Barbati, guard; Horace Dossett and Talbert Crowder, tackles; and Bill Schneller, back, are good varsity prospects.

Winky Autrey and Kline Weatherford, centers; Ralph Burns, guard; were ineligible who should prove to be of assistance to Coach Ed Walker and his assistants when September first rolls around again.

"Its smooth surface marred only by an Alabama dent"—would be an apt description of Ole Miss' 1937 basketball season.

Through the season's entirety, the Rebels played twenty-six games, and achieved victories in twenty. Seven of ten conference encounters were placed on the win ledger. Mississippi State was taken for "rides" on three of four occasions; Tulane and Louisiana State were whipped twice each; nearby independent quints were handed vicious beatings; in practically every particular, the campaign could have been called a complete success, save for that team of rangy 'Bamians.

Using tremendous height to advantage, Alabama carved 38-34, 32-21, decisions over Ole Miss at Tuscaloosa. Not expected to slow the Rebels, considering its late start, the Tide took the "tips" and with them the games. As in the second scheduled encounter, where a foul shot in last seconds of play decided the issue, Alabama gained a free throw in the last 20 seconds of competition in the tournament and made it good to take a third engagement, the most desired, 36-35.

Six points separating Ole Miss from victory in three successive games.

Union University, of Jackson, Tenn., and State College handed Ole Miss its only losses during the campaign. Union won, 37-22, and 45-43, at Jackson, the last an overtime battle. State took the second of four games, 43-34.

Through the twenty-six game campaign, which began during Christmas holidays, the dual-mentors took a veteran squad of seven and played almost entirely throughout the year.

Country Graham, Captain Buster Poole, forwards; George Clay, center; Bruiser Kinard, Tom Leyden and Cully Carlson, guards; and Robert Kincade, utility, did excellent work throughout to take Ole Miss to seasonal heights never before achieved.

Graham, performing in his usual style, hit for 158 points in ten conference encounters to take top rank in averages for conference scorers. It was the second straight year Graham held this advantage, his last winter total was 192 points in 12 games, for 16 points per contest. Poole, the only Reb closing his cage career, served well as leader and kept the pace flowing with constant rallies.

Clay was deservedly termed the "key" man in the Ole Miss' attack by Coach Bohler. Leyden was the artist of the troop. A ball palmer, he was excellent on floor shots and unexcelled at getting the oval in for "crips." Kinard proved a giant on defense, with Carlson an all-round performer, versatile and aggressive, and Kincade making up for his short stature with speed and accurate passes.

Bill Williams, guard, a coming prospect; Red Parker, center, and Kimble Bradley were sophomores standing out in the race for first squad honors.

Steps into the . . . O L E S Q U A R E D

Never an Ole Miss ballyhoo, given little attention as a major mid-winter sport, boxing at the University this year was second only to football as a means of publicity for the Red and Blue.

The team organized by Coach Jess Alderman, although still beset with ill fortune and dame hard luck, turned back two of five opponents and displayed excellent form and well trained talent against the classiest squads the conference afforded.

Paramount among the achievements, however, was the entrance of three Rebels in the Golden Gloves Tournament of Champions in New York City, the winning of Southeastern laurels by an Ole Miss senior welterweight and a participation with excellent results by this same senior welter in the National Intercollegiates in Sacramento, California. Clarence Hapes, 235-pound bomber, gained nationwide fame and professional offers with participation in the finals of the Glove set-tos in Gotham. Taking part in the open division, with only seven scraps behind, Hapes went through a Memphis divisional tourney and won from three opponents before losing an extremely close decision to Joe Matisi in the championship scrap.

Raymond Medlock, who dethroned the defending featherweight champion, only to lose out in an "off form" trial in the semi-finals, and Marvin Goldberg, bantamweight, who gained the second round, were others who triumphed in the Memphis affair before charging national opponents in New York, with great success.

Steve Wilkerson brought Ole Miss its first conference championship, taking also the "best boxer" title in the Tulane-sponsored New Orleans-located tournament. He went to the finals in the intercollegiates, losing the decision in a close engagement.

Wilkerson and Ernest McCracken, bantamweight, proved the most successful Rebs in scheduled competition. A draw to Carl Inman, middleweight, who Wilkerson beat decisively in a first encounter, was "given" an even break at State College for the Rebel's only blot on an otherwise clean slate. Steve won from Louisiana State, Tulane, and Alabama representatives in other bouts. Entering late, McCracken held two State College wins and an initial decision against Alabama.

Johnny Cook, junior welterweight, a crack fighter, Johnny Farese, lightweight, a lethal puncher with his right, and Big Hapes were others who turned in successful seasons.

Tommy Gardner, junior welter; Kenneth Fobes, light-heavy; Oliver Shaw, featherweight; and Erwin Sanders, heavyweight, were others who represented Ole Miss to an advantage.

For the campaign, the Rebels finished with 5-3 losses to L. S. U. and Tulane, off the campus; took Alabama 4½-3½, and State, 5-3, here, and lost a return bout to the Maroons at Starkville, 5-3.

With the main strength in the hurdles, sprints and middle distances, Ole Miss' 1936 track team won two meets, lost the same number and walked away with team honors in the Southeastern A. A. U. meet in Memphis during the Cotton Carnival.

With Melvin Dovith high point man, the Rebels opened their season by decisively defeating Louisiana Polytechnic Institute. Eddie Mack Morgan and Jim Buchanan tied for second scoring honors with 10 points each. Dovith accounted for 13 by virtue of his winning both the 100-yard dash and the 220, and placing in other track events. Morgan captured the quarter mile and half mile, with Buchanan taking both hurdles. Gaining other firsts for the Red and Blue were: Robert Kincade, mile; Elliot Danzig, two miles; Clarence Hapes, shot; Finis St. John, javelin; and a three-way tie between George Clay, Red Jackson, and Ben Evans for the high jump.

The University tracksters tasted defeat in their next venture at the hands of a versatile Louisiana State University cinder aggregation. With but few points gathered by Ole Miss, Buchanan took the lead in scoring by winning the low hurdles and placing second in the high hurdles. Morgan, half mile victor, was second top-scorer. Nosed out by inches in the century, Ray Hapes had to content himself with second place in his division. St. John made next best record in the javelin throw for another Reb second place.

For the second straight week, the Ole Miss luminaries met defeat—this time administered by the University of Alabama's Crimson. Kincade proved himself the hero of the day when he broke the school record for the mile with a time of 4:33.5. Danzig also broke the school record for the two-mile distance, clipping nine seconds off the old mark, but since he didn't win his race, his record was not official and the old record still stands. Clarence Hapes placed second in the discus and Ray Hapes second in the 100-yard dash for other Red and Blue feats.

Undoubtedly the most exciting meet of the year was with State, won by the Rebels by the scant margin of one point. Buchanan again turned out to be the shining star by winning both hurdle events, with Dovith and Morgan tied for second in the scoring. Dovith won the 100 and finished second in the 220. Morgan won the half-mile and ran in the runner-up position in the quarter. The Ole Miss relay team of All-American Bruiser Kinard, Jackson, Kincade, and Morgan came through for another first place as did St. John, javelin, and Jackson, high jump. Second places were earned by Clarence Hapes, discus, and Ray Hapes, 100-yard dash.

Climax for the otherwise mediocre season came when the University of Mississippi athletes came through for team honors in the A. A. U. meet in Memphis. Competing against some of the stiffest competition in the country, the Rebel thinclads showed their mettle with their well-earned victory. Top honors were captured by Ray Hapes, who finished second in the 100-meter run, and Morgan, who finished second to Olympic champion "Slats" Hardin in the 400-meter hurdles. Strange as it may seem, Ole Miss entered three men in the finals of the 100-meter race. Harold Mostkoff, Kincade, and Dovith were also instrumental in obtaining points for the Red and Blue in addition to Hapes and Morgan.

Needless to say, the '36 season was not the best ever chalked up by an Ole Miss cinder squad. In regular school competition, defeats outnumbered the victories, but a win over State and a successful entry in the A. A. U. spelled the difference between a successful season and one unsuccessful. The only new official school record was set by Kincade in the mile.

Resume OF THE SEASON

Hampered by the lack of capable moundsmen, the University of Mississippi's baseball team was forced to content itself with but four victories against nine losses.

Inexperience was the chief fault of the Rebel moundsmen, along with a personal weight-building campaign by Herb Baumsten, who carried the brunt of the Rebel hurling throughout the 13-game schedule. Howard McWilliams shared starting mound duties with Baumsten. Clark Holmes took care of relief duties.

Starting the year here, the Rebel diamond combine got off to an excellent start by downing a scrappy Millsaps nine, 8-5 and 7-2. Steady pitching by Ole Miss hurlers featured the pair of games, with spectacular fielding often taking the moundsmen out of holes. Buster Poole, left fielder, and Clarence Hapes, first baseman, took top hitting honors for the setto.

Rained out in their first game, the Rebels dropped their initial tilt of the year to the Crimson Tide of Alabama in a slugfest at Tuscaloosa, 8-4. Spotty hurling by Ole Miss pitchers, plus weak fielding at the hands of Reb infielders contributed to the Mississippi loss. Keystone improvements featured the fray, and it was through the efforts of Jay Crisler, second baseman, and Tony Rosetti, shortstop, that several Tide runs were killed at the middle bag. Immediately following the Tuscaloosa game, the Tidesmen journeyed to the local diamond to split a two-tilt series. The Rebs lost the first, 10-2, but came back in the series finale to eke out a 2-1 win under the masterful pitching of Baumsten, his best performance of the entire campaign. But it was Bill Neely, center fielder, who proved the hero of the day with his two home runs for both Ole Miss' tallies.

Annual games with Mississippi State came next on the Rebel's bill, and again ineffective pitching forced blemishes to appear on the nine's record. Two defeats, the first 13-4, and second, 10-5, were chalked up against the Rebel nine. A trip to Baton Rouge with L. S. U. as opponents proved a little too much for the already devastated Ole Miss nine, and again the Red and Blue team came out on the small side of the score. The Tigers captured the initial contest, 8-1, in a one-sided slugfest marked by another exhibition of weak pitching and poor fielding. In more of a track meet than a baseball game, L. S. U. took the nightcap, 28-7. With the psychological advantages of playing on their diamond to their credit, Millsaps gained its first win at the hands of the Red and Blue in a tightly contested battle, 2-1. But the following day the Rebel charges avenged the defeat, 11-5, and broke into the win column after five straight losses.

Concluding games with State were played in Starkville with the Maroons sweeping the series, 5-2 the first game, and 12-9 in the finale. Tightly contested from five innings, the outcome would probably been different in the first game, had the Ole Miss pitching held up for the remainder of the scrap. The second game, which was the final of the year for the University nine, was a slugfest from opening to close, with State taking advantage of all Ole Miss' mishaps.

Comprising the University of Mississippi baseball team were Rab Rodgers, catcher; Herb Baumsten, and Howard McWilliams, pitchers; Clarence Hapes, first baseman; Jay Crisler, second baseman; Clark Holmes, third baseman; Buster Poole, left fielder; Bill Neely, center fielder, and Peter Gee, right fielder.

FRED BERGER
Captain

Led by former state open champion Fred Berger, who alternated with Walser Prospere as captain, the '36 tennis team turned in the best net record ever made by a Red and Blue squad with nine wins, two losses, and a lone tie.

Possessing a powerful backhand drive, Berger, along with John Noblin, at one time ranked ninth junior in the nation, set the pace for the Rebel racketeers to lead the aggregation to victory in all save three attempts. Other members of the team were Bob Douglas, number three, Prospere, number four, and Lawrence Adams, number five. Opening here against Mississippi College, the Ole Miss netmen proved too powerful for the Chocs and emerged with a 6-1 win.

. . T E N N I S

Millsaps, in another home match, was next to bite the dust at the hands of the classy Ole Miss net team by another 6-1 score.

First of the two losses came in the next matches, administered by Alabama. Taking every match to three sets, the Rebs were not quite powerful enough, and lost 7-0. The matches, played on the Crimson's home courts, opened the annual road trip for the Red and Blue team.

The Rebs, however, broke into the win column the following day with a decisive 6-1 victory at the expense of Birmingham Southern, followed by another 6-1 margin over Birmingham Country Club.

Little Sewanee, up in the hills of Tennessee, next administered the University netmen their final loss of their most successful season in the history of the institution, 5-2. Possessing more experienced men, the Sewanee team proved superior to the Rebs, tired with almost a week's traveling.

Closing its tour with matches in Jackson, Tennessee, the Mississippi netters completely outclassed Lamberth Junior College, by sweeping every match, 6-0.

Avenging for its previous loss, the Red and Blue team took Sewanee in a return match on the local courts, 6-1, followed by a 3-3 tie with Alabama.

Lamberth played the final set of matches on the campus, and again were outclassed, 6-1.

Final matches of the year were played against Millsaps, who took the small end of a 5-1 score, and Mississippi College, defeated 6-0.

Close of the '36 season left the Rebels but two lettermen on which to build a team for 1937. Although still enrolled at Ole Miss, Berger will be ineligible because he has played the allotted three years in accordance with a conference ruling. Prospere has completed his work here and like Berger, Noblin will also be ineligible. Douglas and Adams are the duo returning for the '37 campaign.

In its infancy as to organization, but standing on top, the 13-membered Southeastern conference in match play, the Rebel golfers representing Ole Miss for the second successive season garnered a perfect record, counting three victories against Millsaps and Tulane.

Led by Captain Walter Welty, school champion and number one competitor, the Red and Blue blanked Millsaps on the campus links, sent the same aggregation down on the Livingston Park course in Jackson and trimmed Tulane's Greenies on their home course in New Orleans.

Welty, George Buchanan and Jim Buchanan and Walker George represented Ole Miss in the inaugural match, with the Methodical Majors here. No one Methodist was able to take a margin over a Johnny Reb. The score read 12 match points to none.

In turning back Millsaps for the second time in Jackson, Welty, George, George Buchanan and Alonzo Westbrook fed par golf at the Purple clan, rendering a 9-3 count.

The same unit traveled to the Crescent City to unexpectedly trim the Green Wave. Welty's 73 for a par 71 course was low score for the engagement, and aided in helping the Rebs to a 7-5 victory.

WALTER WELTY
Captain

Considering lack of a coach and any attempt to organize a full schedule, the Rebs have performed well the past two seasons. Their full list of victories included three defeats of Millsaps and two over Tulane.

The NORRIS TROPHY

The Norris Trophy, presented annually by the Norris Candy Company of Atlanta, Georgia, through its local distributor, Gathright-Reed Drug Company, is emblematic of the highest athletic achievement at Ole Miss.

The award is made on a point basis of participation in athletics, grade and class requirements and student vote. ● Its standards are such that to be chosen for the Trophy stamps a Rebel as outstanding in a field of above average athletes. ● Buster Poole, football, basketball, and baseball performer, winner of the 1936-'37 award, stands out as one of the most deserving of Johnny Rebs ever to achieve this distinction. Captain of the basketball team, honorable mention for all-America grid honors and a valued member of the nine, Poole combined these accomplishments with campus activity and scholarship to rate well in a field of Norris Trophy winners.

M I L I T A R Y

For the first time in the history of the University, students are presented with the opportunity for military service. Established as a part of the Reserve Officers Training Corp, enlistment is voluntary and not compulsory. The first year of this new department of the University has proved very popular among the students, and it is expected to grow in years to come.

It is through the diligent work of Major Charles S. Johnson, Inf., who reported here in April, 1936, after graduation from Tank School, Fort Benning, Ga., that the R. O. T. C. unit has come to be one of the most important activities on the Ole Miss campus. He is ably assisted by Major Hugh M. Evans, formerly the commanding officer at Camp Bullis, Texas.

MAJOR CHARLES S. JOHNSON
P. M. S. and T.

Major Johnson came to the University with the intention of organizing only the First Year Basic Course, but due to the unusual amount of interest manifested by the students, the War Department saw fit to broaden the scope of the proposed organization, and to also offer not only the First Year Basic Course, but the Second Year Basic Course and the First Year Advanced Course. Plans are now in progress, and are almost completed, to the effect of offering all four courses of R. O. T. C. training during the next school term. After a student has successfully completed all these four courses in military instruction and attending annually a summer camp, are commissioned as Second Lieutenants in the Organized Reserves.

The UNITED

Since the organization at the present is comparatively small, only small steps have been taken toward the organizing of rifle teams and pistol teams. The students have taken it upon themselves to compete among themselves. A Pistol Club has been organized by those students not participating in military training, and a Girls' Rifle Team has also been organized. Definite steps have been taken toward obtaining inter-college matches for the teams next year.

The Battalion has gone through intensive drilling, and on several occasions have shown their ability in drill formation in parades. Several visiting officers have favorably commented on the work that has been accomplished by the organization. It is with great anticipation that the University looks forward to seeing this unit of our school increase and become more efficient in years to come.

UNIVERSITY, MISSISSIPPI

1936

The University is composed of the following divisions: the College of Liberal Arts, the Schools of Law, Engineering, Education, Medicine, Pharmacy, Commerce and Business Administration, the Graduate School, and University Extension.

Splendid facilities for general and specialized education are provided by the Liberal Arts College and the Professional Schools.

SUMMER SESSION

Six Weeks Term June 2 to July 14

Nine Weeks Term June 2 to July 31

Courses given in College of Liberal Arts, the Graduate School, and the Schools of Law, Business Administration and Commerce, and Education.

LAW SCHOOL TERMS

First Term June 2 to July 14

Second Term July 15 to August 26

Recreation—with the new swimming pool available for use during the Summer Session, along with other facilities and opportunities for relaxation to be provided, the recreational interests of students will be amply cared for.

Expenses are very moderate either for the Regular Session or for the Summer Session.

PHI DELTA THETA DREAM GIRL

My Phi Delta Theta Dream Girl
Sweeter than the sweetest flower that grows
In my dreams you wander
Happy moments squander
All my life I've lived for you, Dear.
My Phi Delta Dream Girl
Dawn will find you far away
Dusk will bring you near me
Memories to cheer me
My Phi Delta Theta Dream Girl.

Like Ros'es rare she's sweet and fair
There are none that with her can compare
To me it seems that Heaven beams
When she is in my dreams; round me her love is twin-ing
And my fond heart is pin-ing
For one I know whose love is true,
She's the White Rose of Dear Sigma Nu

Phi Pi Phi

Sweetheart, Sweetheart, Sweetheart,
Dearest of all that I love dear,
You are my beautiful dream girl
Flower without a peer,
I will sing thee, old song,
I will forever be true,
Phi Pi Phi, you are a
Sweetheart to me
Dearest one I love you.

PHI EPSILON PI DREAM GIRL

Every college has its co-ed fair
Every town its village belle
Who has won acclaim and wide spread fame
By her charm and her wit as well,
Every fellow on this earth of ours
Has some girl as his ideal
Though it only seems that she comes in his dreams
Yet this mystical dream girl is real.

She's the girl who has taken the sun for her smile
She has stolen the dew for her eyes
She has borrowed the tones of the nightingale's song
Just to hold one entranced all the while,
She has hair just as fair as the flowers in May
And her loveliness never will die
Her nature is sweet as all nature itself
She's the dream girl of Phi Ep Pi.

DELTA GIRL OF MINE

They say that a girl, Dear,
Is all in this world, Dear,
That makes a man what he is.
Now I have two queens,
You'll see what that means,
As I whisper soft and low:—

As the purple rules in my heart with its pow'r, and stands with you supreme,
As the white is sacred and pure each hour, so are you,
Sweet girl of my dreams.

As the gold renews my faith in life, and shines as my guiding star,
As each color reveals all my Delta ideals, so do you,
Delta Girl of Mine.

KAPPA DELTA FLOWER SONG

Oh, once in the midst of
Olympic days,
When Venus came to Greece,
Maidens of each Pan-Hellenic vow
Were beauties devotees.
Each brought the flower of her sisterhood
And laid it with the rest
Venus chooses the white rose
As the flower she loved best.

Not to Rose of Zeta
Nor Pansy Flower of Theta,
Did Venus yield her favor
As the flower she loved best.
But for gladdest hours,
For its beauty Venus chose
Queen of all the flowers
Kappa Delta's own White
Rose.

THE ROSE OF PI KAPPA PHI

As I sat alone with my dreams
A beautiful land I could see
And a vision so bright came
To me through the night
With my dream girl I seem'd to be.
Oh, her eyes are the stars
of Heaven
That shine as a lamp so bright
Her lips are the roses' petals
Which open their folds to the light
Her hair is the gold of sunset
As it fades in the western sky
No flower that grows is like the rose
She's the flower of Pi Kappa
Phi.

DREAM GIRL OF PI K. A.

When the night birds are singing their love song
And you sit by the fireside and dream
There's the thought of a girl puts your brain in a whirl
And her eyes like the bright embers gleam.

She's as fair as the heavens above her
She is true to the trust that she bears
Tho' she is far away she'll be yours some sweet day
She's the dream girl of Pi K. A.

SWEETHEART OF SIGMA CHI

The girl of my dreams is the sweetest girl
Of all the girls I know
Each sweet co-ed like a rainbow's trail
Fades in the after-glow.

The blue of her eyes and the gold of her hair
Are a blend of the western sky
And the moonlight beams on the girl of my dreams
She's the sweetheart of Sigma Chi.

A. T. O. LOVE

Many are the ways in which love's been told
Some may seem new, but they all are old
I tell my love in the sweetest way,
Three simple words, they are all I can say
I love you, I love you, that's all
'Tis a story our hearts do enthrall
As it tells a man's love for the girl in his dreams
While in her eyes dear love light gleams.

The Administration for its cooperating with us in all our undertakings.

Mr. David Bloom and George Stokes for their aid in obtaining pictures for the Athletic Section.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Cofield for their patience in making the photographs of this book a success, as well as their personal interest manifested in this annual as a whole.

Mr. George Petty for his acting as judge of the Beauties.

Miss Cecelia Hosey and Miss Lelia Terry for their untiring assistance in typing.

Albert Russell and Dorothy Powers for their literary contribution to the annual.

The Publications Committee for their excellent cooperation throughout the year.

Both of the Staffs, for their unsurpassed cooperation in compiling this book.

The Mississippian for the publicity given this book.

Mr. Robert Faerber for his unceasing efforts to make this book a success.

Mr. Ed Benson for his aid in the publishing of this book.

Mr. Eugene Fitzgerald for his suggestions concerning the financial management of this book.

The Editor Wishes to Apologize to

Mr. Marion McClellan for the omission of his picture from both Pi Kappa Pi organization, and the Phi Eta Sigma organization.

Miss Margaret Williams for the omission of her picture in the Kappa Delta sorority.

These are the only two errors found at the time of publication, but in event any others occur, the Editor asks the consideration of the individuals concerned, for it is a near impossible task to make a perfect book. He has done all in his power to do just that.
